About the Battelle Center

---

go.osu.edu/C4ve

We are dedicated to developing the talent, technologies, and multidisciplinary teams that drive innovation, strategic decision-making, and research for the public interest.

The Battelle Center for Science, Engineering, and Public Policy helps industry and government partners engage with the next generation of public interest technologists. Based at The Ohio State University's John Glenn College of Public Affairs, we focus on real-world problem solving, workforce development, and applied research. Our programs connect students with meaningful opportunities while giving partners a direct line to emerging talent, innovative thinking, and impact-driven collaboration.

What Can the Battelle Center do for you?

Partnering with the Battelle Center gives you a direct connection to the next generation of talent and problem solvers. We work with organizations to design meaningful ways to engage students, whether through project-based challenges, workshops, internships, or custom events. These experiences help you introduce your work to students who are curious, capable, and motivated to make an impact.

You'll have opportunities to shape learning, contribute to public interest projects, and build lasting relationships with emerging professionals. We also help raise your visibility across campus and beyond by featuring partners in programs, events, and communications. Whether you're looking to solve a specific challenge or invest in future talent, we create space for collaboration that leads to real results.

Our Dedicated Team

The Battelle Center team brings a mix of experience in research, strategy, student programming, and communications. We work hands-on with partners to build meaningful connections between students and the world around them. Whether you're looking to support student development, explore research opportunities, or share your work in new ways, we're here to help make it happen.

Dr. Daniel Kelley

Battelle Center Director

Daniel leads strategy and partnership development. He helps organizations identify the right level of engagement and connect with key collaborators across Ohio State to turn shared goals into real outcomes.

Dr. Lisa Frazier

Senior Researcher

Lisa bridges research and practice. She works with partners to shape applied research efforts, student inquiry, and programming that align with workforce and innovation needs.

Michael Pires

Business Operations Manager

Michael manages the details that keep everything moving. He oversees logistics, supports service delivery, and ensures that each program element runs smoothly for both students and partners.

Ethan Rivera

Student Programming Lead

Ethan creates hands-on, student-centered experiences. He leads efforts across SCOPE and other programs to connect students with partners through meaningful, real-world learning.

Maddie Firth

Marketing and Communications Specialist

Maddie leads marketing strategy and partner visibility. She supports outreach efforts, coordinates collaborative content, and ensures your organization's work and opportunities reach the right audiences.
